NASOM – THE NEW AUSTRIAN SOUND OF MUSIC 2018/2019

The 25 nominations for the sixth edition of “The New Austrian Sound of Music” (NASOM) for 2018/19 have now been made public. NASOM is a funding program for Austrian artists supported by the Federal Ministry for Europe, Integration and Foreign Affairs (BMEIA). Federal Minister Sebastian Kurz is particularly excited by the quality of the nominees: “The young musicians are an excellent representation of the breadth and diversity of Austrian music. It is particularly fortunate that this year many artists from the genres of pop/electronic and jazz have applied.” READ MORE

THE 8TH POPFEST WIEN PRESENTS ITS PROGRAM

“There are countless pop festivals around the world. But not very many take place in the beating heart of a cultural metropolis.” Said Andreas Mailath-Pokorny about the 8th annual POPFEST WIEN. “And thanks to a lively and diverse scene, the pulse of this urban heart is going to be seriously raised by around 60 concerts. Because, and this isn’t something we have only known since Falco, the famous golden Viennese heart doesn’t just beat for classic, but has always had a special place for dignified, self-assured, pop.” READ MORE

ALMA – “OEO”

Music that unites, that treats tradition with respect and yet still opens exciting doors to the new. With the release of their new album “Oeo” (col legno), ALMA have proven themselves to be a formation that understands how to redefine folk music in a compelling way. READ MORE

SUCCESS AND ROUTINE – LEYYA AT PRIMAVERA SOUND

Things are going well for LEYYA right now. In April they won an Amadeus Award, in the summer they will be playing a lot of festivals. And in between there was a show at Primavera Sound, one of the most important festivals in Europe. For the band that’s business as usual. READ MORE
